Jess - Ghost of the Toll Point Light

“There’s nothing better than a old-fashioned ghost story. There’s a serious talent in creating suspense in theatre, this show balances both imagination and music and is beyond exciting to watch.”

Sara - Aunusthan

“It’s always fun exploring new genres, and in dance, classical Indian dance isn’t often seen! They put a wonderful twist in the show to compel a modern audience, it’s vibrant and dazzling.”

Staff Picks

Alex - Mark Simmons: Quip off the Mark

“A unique one-liner show, Mark brings a box of memories and stories with him after his parents sold his childhood home. He is absolutely hilarious, quick and witty with his jokes.”

Ugne - The Swinging Cat Jazz Club

“I’ve seen Hannah Horton’s jazz club a few times before and every time I’ve been blown away by her talent and her guests that join her in supporting this show. The cabaret seating makes the auditorium feel so warm and intimate it’s hard to not get lost in the music.”

Micheal - The Simon and Garfunkel Story

“With exceptional harmonies and original film footage, this show looks and sounds fantastic! Even Art Garfunkel was impressed when he saw them perform live.”

Georgia O'Keeffe: Memories of Drawings

This new display will showcase 21 photogravures of drawings produced by the artist between 1915-1963, reflecting the period in which O'Keeffe established herself as a major figure in American Modernism.

Renowned for her distinctive balance of abstraction with figuration and her tenacity in pursuing her innovative style, Georgia O'Keeffe (1887-1986) is one of the most important artists in 20th Century American art. Her iconic works of organic forms – including flowers and bones – surreal abstractions, rural landscapes and urban cityscapes uniquely captured the experience of her environment and broke new ground for women artists.
